Dixie Rae Schmidt was born to Louis (Bill) South and Margaret Ilene (Gustin) South on September 19, 1943 at Guthrie Center, Iowa, and passed February 26, 2019 at Bryan East Hospital in Lincoln, Nebraska. She was one of ten children in the family.

Dixie graduated from Geneva Jr. Sr. High School in 1961. She married Roger Schmidt of Fairmont, Nebraska on December 15, 1962, and to them three children were born. Roger and Dixie lived on the Schmidt family homestead where they raised their three daughters, Cindy, Tracy and Stephanie. She was a graduate of Southeast Community College, Licensed Practical Nursing Program.

Dixie was a sassy, straightforward, no bullsh lady with a quick wit and a huge heart. She cared deeply for her family and cherished time spent visiting with friends (sometimes over a bottle of wine, or perhaps a mango margarita). While she could often provide words of wisdom and comfort, she also loved to tell jokes. In recent months, she asked Emma and Abbi to record her telling jokes and requested they be played at her funeral. She did not want us crying for her loss, but laughing in her remembrance.

She was a talented, self-taught seamstress. As a child, she learned to sew by making her own doll clothes. If you asked her to make you something and she couldn't find a pattern, she would just make her own. A prolific quilter, she made quilts for every resident of Heritage Crossings, where she worked for over 30 years. Some of those quilts were returned to her over the years and will be given to the homeless.

After Roger's passing in 2012, Dixie purchased a home in Geneva. She was very proud of her home and her door was always open. She especially enjoyed having the grandkids stop by during school lunch break. Not much made her happier than having food ready when they made their quick, 20 minute lunch stop. What a cook she was...apple pie, fried chicken, and dressing were some of the family favorites; and don't forget her "special lemonade."

There are not enough words to describe this special lady. Cherish your memories of her as we will.

She was preceded in death by her father, Bill; mother, Ilene; and brother Michael (Mickey).

She is survived by daughters Cindy (Larry) Chapman, of Cortland, NE, Tracy (Sal) Ramirez, of Sacramento, CA, and Stephanie (Kerry) Smith, of Fairmont, NE; Brothers Larry (Gloria) South, Jerri South, Stanley (Peggy) Palm; Sisters Becky (Glen Roesler), Gina (Joe) Jorgenson, Susan (Tom) Hume, Rhonda (Lynn) Rich, Peggy (Fred) Gebert; Grandchildren Emma Smith, Abbi Smith, Bob Smith, Ashley and Clint Foutch, Ashley Ramirez, Andrew Ramirez, Whitney Zweifel; Great-grandchildren Addison Foutch and Cora Foutch; nieces, nephews and many dear friends.

“ you always knew where you stood with Dixie. She loved seeing my kids outside, especially the boys being naughty. Leo loved running over barefoot to the back patio when she was outside. Neighborhood will be a little less now.

“ Heritage will never be the same without her visits and still coming into work when needed. The memorial Christmas tree was her creative gift to honor all that have passed at Heritage. It will forever be "Dixie's tree" and hopefully she will be proud of us carrying on her traditions. We will miss her and all of her wisdom.

“ Thank you Amy. She would appreciate it being known as Dixie's tree. Cindy

“ The Schmidt family have been the Uldrich's "next door" neighbors along Turkey Creek for generations. There are so many wonderful memories of spending time with the Schmidts...mostly playing with Cindy, Tracy, and Stephanie. Whether it was Barbie dolls. making mud pies, inner-tubing on the creek, or playing royal rummy...life was definitely fun with the neighbors. Dixie was an excellent seamstress sewing clothes for Marian and myself along with many outfits for dolls. Our moms made sure we grew up together, and our parents were always looking out for each other's families. Dixie was my personal attendant at our wedding 32 years ago in Tucson. Having Dixie & Tracy there to celebrate with us made the day extra special. I appreciated Dixie's straightforward way of telling me how things truly were... and that she always wished the best for me. When I would come home from AZ to visit. Dixie would make a special dessert for me. Roger & Dixie were true friends of Myron & Marian. I'm sure there will be much "catching up" when these souls reunite in heaven where they will enjoy: perfectly grilled steaks, talk of crops & cattle. kids & grandkids and perfectly poured "red mugs". Happy camping in the great beyond! Rest in peace dear friend. Our deepest sympathy and heartfelt condolences to Dixie's family and friends.

“ I was so shocked to open the website and see that Dixie had died. I presume she must have been ill, but I hadn't seen her for awhile and hadn't heard. It seems like I knew Dixie forever. I had the most contact with her when Joe's mother was at Heritage. It seemed like Dixie was always there offering care and comfort and understanding to all the residents. She made them feel at home and like family but was also able to "make them behave" and follow directions that were for their benefit.

Prayers for the family, that you will be comforted by good memories of times shared and love exchanged through the years. May she be resting in the peace of Christ and enjoying the reward of her labors and service.
