“ I am so sorry to hear of Jim’s passing. Jim was a year behind me in high school, and I was fortunate to be his accountant when he had his junk car business. He always impressed me.

In high school, Jim was incredibly smart. I remember him and Ken Hulse sitting together, working through problems—two brilliant minds. I truly thought they might be the next Steve Jobs. Later, when he was running his junk car business, he had such creative and novel ideas. It was clear if he would have stayed in the business he would be on the path to financial success.

Unfortunately, I lost touch with him after that. I vaguely recall seeing him once years ago when he mentioned living in a cabin—possibly by the river. He told me he was exactly where he wanted to be—solitary and at peace. That was the last time I saw him, but I often thought about him and wondered where life had taken him.

Wishing peace and comfort to your entire family during this difficult time.
